That would depend upon what I wrote on it.

I have checked the dockets. I can always check again. EFED cannot locate it and I don't think they cited it in their recent doc.

A marked up version may work, if you have it.

I might have it. If I do, it might be marked up. Their best chance at obtaining a clean copy might be to get one from the originator, although it should have been in one of our dockets. If we have referenced it in any of our 2011 SAP papers, whoever referenced it likely has a copy.

You all don't by any chance have access to the below cited document?
EFED cannot find it and you all are sort of a last resort.

Hello,

We are trying to locate a copy of this publication. Would you be able to help?

Anonymous, 2001. Analysis of the supporting data for EPA's EIS database with respect to rodenticides. Unpubl. Report prepared for the Rodenticide Registrants Task Force to EPA by ARCADIS Geraghty & Miller, Millersville MD. 29 pp. (This is referenced in documents from several EPA dockets, but I have not been able to find the referenced document itself.)

ALSO CITED AS

RRTF, Analysis of the supporting data for EPA's EIS database with respect to rodenticides (Jan. 25, 2001). (This is footnote 117 of page 265/379 of the PDF "Rodenticides Availability of Preliminary Comparative Ecological Assessment.")

I believe RRTF (Rodenticide Registrants Task Force) submitted this report to EPA on January 25, 2001.

I have not been able to find this. Can it be obtained either publicly online or in a hardcopy?

Thank you for any help you can provide.

Best regards,
Linda Fields
